BIOGRAPHY

Sarah is an associate in our Halifax office. She is a member of our litigation team and maintains a diverse practice in the areas of insurance litigation and commercial litigation. She also practices immigration law, assisting clients with various temporary and permanent residence applications. Originally from Dartmouth, Sarah attended law school at the Schulich School of Law at Dalhousie University and was called to the Nova Scotia Bar in 2022. She holds a Masters in Public Administration from Dalhousie University and a Bachelor of Arts from Saint Mary's University.

Outside of Cox & Palmer, Sarah has served in the Canadian Armed Forces as an Army Reservist for over 10 years. She has completed tactical and operational planning courses and has deployed on international exercises taking her to all around the world. Sarah sits on the board of Landing Strong, a non-profit organization that specializes in mental health supports and programming for veterans. In her spare time, Sarah enjoys hiking various trails in Nova Scotia and recreational pub trivia.
